When there is no
CHANGE
AS OF YET

Ever wondered what to do when you pray and you don't get results? Have you tried believing God for healing, and yet the healing seems to be taking a long time to happen? You're trusting God for healing, but the pain is still there. You're holding on for a breakthrough, but you don't see the result. Well, what do you do? What do you do when there is no change as of yet? It's in these moments that you must learn to stay with the word, to call things that be not as though they were, and to judge God faithful who has promised.

2 Timothy 3:15–17

And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.
16 All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:
17 That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. The Scriptures are inspired by God and are profitable for doctrine, reproof, correction, and instruction in righteousness.
The word of God is restorative, equipping, and powerful.

Luke 1:37 (KJV)

For with God nothing shall be impossible.

Luke 1:37 (ASV)

For no word of God shall be void of power.

Every word from God carries divine ability. The word was first spoken, then written, and now must be spoken again. The word of God is alive, active, and effective. Therefore, if the word is this powerful, why does it sometimes seem like nothing is changing? This is where many believers begin to question the effectiveness of the word. But the truth is, God's word never fails. The issue is not with the word, but it is with how the word is received and understood.

Matthew 13:1-9

The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side.
2 And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.
3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow;
4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:
5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:
6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.
7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:
8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.
9 Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Jesus describes four types of soil, each representing a different response to the word. The seed (the Word) falls on different types of ground (hearts). The seed that falls by the wayside represents those who hear the word but do not understand it. Immediately, the wicked one comes and snatches away what was sown in their hearts.
So the issue is not with the word, but with the reception of the word. If the understanding of the word is lacking, even what was received can be taken away. The word is not ineffective; it is the lack of understanding that renders it unfruitful.

Mark 8:22–26

And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.
23 And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought.
24 And he looked up, and said, I see men as trees, walking.
25 After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.
26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

Jesus laid hands on a blind man, and the man said, “I see men as trees.” That means the healing wasn't complete. But Jesus did not stop there, but laid hands on the man again, and the man saw clearly. Jesus didn't say, “Well, it didn't work.” He didn't say, “maybe it's not God's will.” No, He laid hands again, and the man was healed.
What do you do when you pray and nothing happens? You pray again. What do you do when you lay hands and nothing changes? You lay hands again. You speak again. You don't stop, you don't give up, because God's power will never fail. As long as it is God's word, it will work.

Mark 11:22–23

And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God.
23 For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.
2 Corinthians 4:13
We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;
Romans 10:9
That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

Faith believes and speaks. So, when there is no change as of yet, you don't stop speaking. You don't stop believing. You don't stop confessing. Confession is an agreement when your heart and your mouth align with God's word.

Ephesians 1:18

The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,

Colossians 1:27

To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory;
Hebrews 11:1
Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

The word “hope” means expectation. It is not just a wish but a confident expectation. Expectation is not passive. Expectation is active. The hope is expectation. So when there is no change as of yet, ensure that you stay expectant. Expect healing. Expect a breakthrough. Expect the word to work. What are you saying in God's word? Are you speaking your expectations? Are you declaring what you believe? Are you calling things that be not as though they were? You must have an expectation, a fixed demand, a fixed desire. Don't lose your expectations, but rather, prepare to be blessed and expect to receive your desires.

Romans 4:17–21

(As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.
18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be.
19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:
20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;
21 And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

Abraham believed God and hoped against hope. He did not stagger; rather, he was strong in faith. He gave glory to God, and he was fully persuaded. His name was changed from Abram to Abraham. He started calling himself what God called him—father of many nations, even when he had no children. Just like Abraham, who, against hope, believed, we are called to esteem the reality of God's word above the facts. We are not denying the facts; we are simply choosing to speak the truth of God's promises over the circumstances. The word of God works. It works via faith confession and active expectation of the results. It works when your heart and your mouth agree. It works when you understand what you're saying. It works when you believe it and when you expect it. It works when you keep speaking it until you see your result. When there is no change as of yet, don't stop speaking.
Speak again, pray again, believe again, lay hands again. Understand God's word again, expect again, confess again. God's word is not void of power. The word will always work. The word works, even when you don't see it yet.

Confess this:
I stay with God's word
His word will never fail
His word will always come to pass
I fix my attention on the word and
I keep it on my lips daily
I call things that are not as though they are
I speak again!
I pray again!
I believe again!
I confess again!
I expect again
I do not waver
I don't give up because God's power never fails
I receive my answer
I see results
The word of God works in my life
The word works, always!
